S&S Activewear Announces New Location in Kansas City
Company presence increases to four distribution centers in 2016

Bolingbrook, IL...December 1, 2015 - S&S Activewear announces the addition of a fourth warehouse in the Kansas City metro area, complementing its existing locations in Bolingbrook, IL; Santa Fe Springs, CA and Robbinsville, NJ. The new location will operate under the S&S Activewear brand and will create 200 new jobs in the area.

Opening in the spring of 2016, the shipping and receiving facility is 473,000 square feet, expanding the company's 1-day ground shipping transit area to include Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, and North Texas.

"The additional Midwest warehouse puts us over 1.5 million square feet of inventory, with a big portion of that inventory in the most accessible region of the country. It will give our customers a larger overnight delivery area with later cut-off times," said Margaret Crow, Director of Marketing. "It will also have a positive impact on our service level in Bolingbrook by shifting some of that volume to Kansas City. We're always working to improve our shipping speed and accuracy and this is an important step in that direction."

Kansas City inventory numbers will appear along with the other location inventories on the company's website. Customers will be able to order from any of the four distribution centers with their existing account.
